VEHICLE OWNERS RIGHT TO A HEARING

ATTENTION: As a vehicle owner or other person entitled to possession of n of an impounded vehicle, you have the right to a hearing if you believe your vehicle should not have been impounded. You may request this hearing either before or after you pay the impound and storage charges to the Official Police Garage which has custody of your vehicle. The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether there was PROBABLE CAUSE to impound the vehicle, that is, was the impounding officer authorized to remove your vehicle by authority of the California Vehicle Code, the Los Angeles Municipal Code or case law.

The impound hearing will be conducted by a City Hearing Examiner. You may present any witnesses or other evidence you believe will show that your vehicle should not have been impounded. You must establish that you are the owner of the vehicle or that you have some other right to possession of it.

If the hearing officer determines that there was NO probable cause and your vehicle should not have been impounded it will be released to you without charges, or you will be repaid after processing by mail of the charges you paid to the Official Police Garage. If the hearing examiner determines that the vehicle was properly impounded you must pay the impound and storage charges or the Official Police Garage acquires a lien against your vehicle.

To request an impound hearing, you must telephone, write or appear in person within ten (10) days at the Department of Transportation Enforcement Office which impounded your vehicle (Listed above in space titled "For further info, contact.") Failure to do so will end your right to a hearing. Refer to the DR Number when requesting a hearing.

NOTE: The impound hearing does not affect any related parking citation(s). If you wish to challenge any such citation(s), you must do so through the appropriate administrative process.
